Accreditation Statement: The American College of Rheumatology is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Statement of Designation: The ACR designates this educational activity for a maximum of 49.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

International Physicians: International physicians who register as part of a group and require AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™, must provide the following information to your tour leader: full name, mailing address, telephone and fax numbers, and e-mail address. The information will be used to verify your meeting attendance.

Health Professional participants may claim hours to receive a Certificate of Participation for an activity designated for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™ credit.

For non-CME sessions, attendees may also request a certificate of participation.

2011 ACR/ARHP Annual Scientific Meeting Call for Proposals

Don't miss the opportunity to propose a session concept, topic idea or speaker suggestion for the ACR/ARHP 2011 Annual Scientific Meeting. Your ideas will assist the ACR/ARHP annual meeting planning committees in selecting quality topics and speakers for the 2011 annual meeting; therefore, we encourage you to submit your ideas/suggestions online.

To view instructions and submit a proposal, visit www.rheumatology.org/education.

2011 Study Groups Application

Coordinate a study group and create a unique opportunity to network with peers that share your interest in a disease, disorder or specialized field of study.

To view the guidelines and submit an application, visit www.rheumatology.org/education.

ACR/ARHP proposals and study group applications must be submitted online by Monday, November 15, 2010.
